How long will it take the man to fill the stomach if he does not stop the leak? To attempt to nourish the body when the stomach is diseased is like trying to fill the sack with the hole in it. When the stomach and other digestive organs are diseased, there is a constant loss of nutrition. Enough is eaten but the body loses flesh, plain proof that the food eaten is largely wasted because it is not digested and assimilated.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It stops the leaks by which nutrition is lost, and enables the building up of the body by the nutrition derived from food. The gain in weight proves the cure.

Three years ago I was taken sick with what the doctor called "dyspepsia and indigestion." I was given medicine for the trouble, but I could not eat even a little without feeling as if I was being tortured. In a few months I began to lose weight and strength in the pit of my stomach. I called the doctor again and he said I had a "stomach ailment," gave me medicine but it did not do any good. I lost all weight in three months. I then consulted Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, two of Dr. Pierce's Pills, and six vials of Dr. Pierce's Peppermint Cure. I have gained ten pounds. Can eat everything.

Miss Ida M. Snyder.

Treasurer of the Brooklyn East End Art Club. "If women would pay more attention to their health we would have more happy wives, mothers and daughters, and if they would observe their health they would find that the doctors' prescriptions do not perform the many cures they are given credit for."

In consulting with my druggist he advised McEly's Wine of Cardui and Theodore's Blood-Purifier, and so I took it and have every reason to thank him for a new life opened up to me with restored health, and it only took three months to cure me."

Wine of Cardui is a regulator of the menstrual functions and is a most nourishing tonic for women. It cures scanty, suppressed, too frequent, irregular and painful menstruation, falling of the womb, white and flooding. It is helpful when approaching womanhood, during pregnancy, after childbirth and in change of life. It frequently brings a dear baby to homes that have been barren for years. All druggists have $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

GREWSOME FINDS IN HART

Four Skeletons and Ancient Relics Discovered in a big Cave.

Remains in Sitting Posture, with a Child's Bones in Woman's Lap.

Munfordville, Ky., April 20.—Some interesting discoveries have been made and curious relics unearthed in Linn's Cave, on what is known as the Sam Taylor farm, near Cub Run, this county. This is a very large cave, and has been explored quite a distance recently. Several persons think they have discovered evidences of gold deposits in the cave, and Mr. C. B. Hodges claims to have found in it nuggets of pure gold. Mr. Hodges yesterday took with him a party of three men and went into the cave prospecting for gold. They had with them what they term a "Spanish dip needle." About one hundred feet from the mouth of the cave the needle "dipped," and they at once began digging at the spot where the needle pointed. They had not dug far when they unearthed a human skeleton, and in quick succession another and another until they found four—bones of two men, one woman and one little child. They had no means of ascertaining how long these skeletons had been there, but evidently for a long time. Each had been buried in a sitting posture, with the hands clasping the knees, and the bodies surrounded with mazel shells. The skeletons were all perfect, not a bone missing. The woman seemed to have been buried with her babe in her lap.

Mr. Hodges says his entire form could be easily distinguished, the flesh seeming to have turned into a grayish sort of dust, which was easily distinguishable from the earth which enveloped it. The roof of the mouth of this skeleton was still intact.

In addition to the shells, near each body were found a number of other articles, which are evidently Indian relics, such as bone needles, and particularly a beautiful and artistically carved bone knife, in a perfect state of preservation and almost as sharp on the edge as a razor. Mr. Hodges thinks there are many other bodies buried in this cave, and he is preparing to make further and extensive excavations. A peculiar fact is that the woman seems to have been murdered. There is a deep cut in the back of the head, evidently inflicted by a blow with a tomahawk, which punctured the skull and penetrated the brain.

Mr. Hodges and his party became so interested in their find that they momentarily lost sight of the gold for which they were searching, but later found evidences sufficient to justify a belief that there is more or less of a gold deposit in this cave.

HEIRESS

To a Large Estate Found Among Cree Indians.

Her Parents Were Killed When She was a Child, and by an Accident a Relative Discovered Her Whereabouts.

Kalspell, Mont., April 20.—Another white girl has been found among the Northern Indians. She is Mathilda Youngquist, who is heiress to a large estate in Stockholm, Sweden. For nearly fifteen years a search for the girl has been in progress, and that it has been brought to a successful termination is the result of an accident.

When John Anderson, a relative, appeared in this part of Montana a year ago and made inquiries for a family named Youngquist no one could aid him. Finally he met an old resident, who remembered that many years ago Frank Youngquist had tried to operate a ranch in the extreme northern part of the State, close to what is now the Blackfoot reservation. One day the ranch was raided by Cree Indians, who killed Mr. and Mrs. Youngquist and carried away their little baby girl, Mathilda, who was then a year of age.

Anderson to-day met the girl with a band of Cree's. She told him she had been carried away by the Indians a great many years before, after her father and mother had been killed, and that since then she had been with the Indians and was the wife of a member of the band, who was killed in a snow slide a few weeks ago. She remembered nothing of her parents, she said, except that they were like Anderson. All she had left to remember them by was a little gold ring which her father had given her one day. There was writing on the inside of this ring, but as she could not read she did not know what it was.

Taking the ring the woman handed him, Anderson read the inscription inside, which settled the identity of the owner of the ornament. It reads "To Mathilda, from Papa and Mamma Youngquist, 1885." Anderson and the girl will go to Sweden immediately.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by one Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, Editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a teaspoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted in a very agreeable surprise is putting it most mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." ABORIGINES TO BE

A FAIR FEATURE

All the Well-Known Tribes Will be Fully Represented.

Washington, April 18.—St. Louis will have a Wild West show in connection with the government Indian exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Capt. Tonner, acting commissioner of Indian affairs, received a letter from St. Louis to-day stating that the exposition officials had agreed to make an appropriation of $50,000 to supplement the appropriation of $40,000 made by the government for an Indian exhibit. This will make $100,000 available for this feature of the exposition, and will enable the secretary of the interior to provide some spectacular features in connection with the Indian exhibit.

It was decided some time ago by Mr. Jones, commissioner of Indian affairs, after a consultation with Secretary Hitchcock, that the exhibit would be continued to a showing of the progress made in the Indian schools, unless the exposition authorities made an additional appropriation for the spectacular features. Mr. S. M. McGowan, representing the interior department, who is now in St. Louis, has informed the department of the action of the exposition officials.

Plans for the exhibit will be undertaken as soon as the agreement between the department and the exposition officials has been formally entered into. Officials of the Indian bureau will undertake to collect representatives of all the Indian tribes that had their home in the Louisiana purchase. This will include all of the well-known tribes, the Arapahoes, Apaches, Cheyennes, Crows, Utes, Pueblos, Flatheads and Sioux. The members of the five civilized tribes, in the Indian Territory, were removed from the East and South after the Louisiana purchase, but they will probably be represented in the exhibit.

There will probably be an arrangement of games, feats of skill and dances peculiar to the different tribes, although it can not be yet determined just how far the department will be willing to go in preparing for this form of entertainment. The policy of the Indian bureau is pronounced against encouragement of this class of exhibitions, as experience has shown that they have a demoralizing effect upon the Indians.

Officials of the bureau feel, however, that this will be the last opportunity for a collection of the real blanket Indians, whose numbers are growing rapidly less each year. They are willing to encourage this feature of the exposition, believing it will be the last opportunity that will be afforded to see a considerable number of people to see the Indian as he existed half a century ago, when the Louisiana purchase was young.

Details of the exhibit will be decided upon soon after Indian Commissioner Jones returns from his western trip in May.

In Memory

Of Mary Morris, who died March 16, 1903. Our house is left unto us desolate, the smile and merry voice that made it sunshine is gone. The presence of one that made our home and friends happy is missed, and earth has lost its beauty and music, its power for our Mary is dead. The beautiful flowers she planted here will bloom when spring returns, but she will not behold them. Her heart will not answer to the glad call of nature, the light of life has gone from her eyes forever, for our Mary is dead. To day, one month ago, Mary's soul To heaven took its flight, To dwell where all is peace and love All beautiful and bright, Deep in the silent grave.

Our darling daughter sleeps, Although her soul is safe in heaven, Her lonely parents weep.

KENTUCKY STANDS ALONE

The Only State in the Union that has not Provided for Representation at the Fair.

The action of the Tennessee Legislature in making an appropriation for a display of its products, resources and industries at the World's Fair in St. Louis next year, leaves Kentucky the only State in the entire country that has not provided for adequate representation at the exhibition and Kentucky has a better reason for being represented there than any other State. She has more to show and her undeveloped wealth needs to be brought to the attention of the world. For five months the Kentucky Exhibit Association has conducted a campaign as vigorous for subscriptions to the $100,000 fund as any campaign ever waged; every legitimate means has been resorted to, to bring contributions in; but the people of the State have not awakened to the realization of the fact that the time has arrived when the Association should know exactly what amount of money it will have to spend on a big advertisement of the State at the Exposition.

The Association has laid plans that will give Kentucky more name and fame at the Fair than was ever before given a State; it has selected an attractive design for a State building that will cost $30,000 and has secured space in the main buildings of the exposition for exhibits of products, resources and industries that will take $20,000 for their collecting, transporting, installing and maintenance during the Fair; its directors and committee have been giving their time and money without hope of reward and are entitled to "fight it out on this line, if it takes all summer."

The movement these public-spirited citizens have inaugurated must succeed or Kentucky will not be represented at the exposition. Every other State will. Can Kentuckians permit this? Those who have not subscribed to the fund should not wait a minute longer. While the exposition is a year off, the collecting of the exhibits and the beginning of the building should not be delayed. It takes months and months to prepare for the display and the Association deserves to know at once whether or not it is to have sufficient funds to carry the work forward.

Death of Edie Davidson.

At his home four miles south of Shreve, Ohio county, April 1, 1903, Edie Wesley Davidson, son of Edward and Amanda Davidson, in the thirty-fourth year of his age. Edie, as he was called by all, was born at the place of his death, December 10, 1869. He had been in bad health for some two or three years, suffering from that dreaded disease, consumption, which was later complicated by heart and kidney disease. While he suffered a great deal, he never complained very greatly of his condition and only remarked to his physicians and friends that if something was not done he could not long survive. He told his mother that while he loved life as well as any one, yet he felt that he could never get well and that he was willing to die—a great consolation to her. Edie was a great reader and had quite a library of well selected books of history and travel which he had carefully read. On April 2, 1903, after funeral services by the Rev. Robert Oldham, his remains were laid to rest in the James Roach graveyard, near his home, in the presence of his friends and relatives.

Some Good Advice.

"When a man's ways please God, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him."—Prov. 16:7.

The spirit to do something, make something and save something is seizing the negro all over the country. We can dignify any position or calling. If you are a bootblack, be the best in your town. If a cook, washwoman or farm hand, stand at the head of your class. There is plenty of room for the man or woman equipped in any calling. Get an authentic book on whatever trade you follow for a living, and use your spare moments in study, that you may be a master of your profession.

On the Street or in the Road, whether walking or riding, keep to the right.

Part of the way justly belongs to the person meeting you. Many persons have been accused of being ugly or independent or impudent or neglecting this simple rule. "Ever to the right" and you will help and be helped in this and the world to come. The fact that many of the pulpits of the North, of all denominations, are being filled by Southern clergymen, many of whom have undying prejudice against the negro, and Southern men, with hatred burning immortal in their hearts toward the negro, go North to inject their foul venom into the hearts of North-

Wondrous Alaska.

When Secretary of State, William H. Seward, in 1867, purchased Alaska of Russia for $7,200,000 in gold, what a howl went up from the Democrats of the country! Then, as now, the party was seeking a political issue, after the logic of events had destroyed all previous ones. The extravagance of paying that sum—and in gold, too—for "over 500,000 square miles of ice and snow," was made the subject of hot partisan obloquy. But it had no effect on the majority of the American people. This country has never absorbed more territory, from the purchase of Louisiana down to the acquisition of our insular possessions, than that act has not been approved by the people. They believe in expansion, and in the case of Alaska they were willing to endorse Seward's act, in the full belief that that astute statesman knew what he was doing.

But thought this was true, even William H. Seward would be better than he knew. He did not dream of the golden hoards hidden in the sands of Alaska rivers, or under the tundra of the Cape Nome district. The investment Uncle Sam made through him is now paying 100 per cent, per year, and the revenues are, of course, steadily increasing. Nor is it the gold alone, nor yet the fur trade and fisheries, which constitute the wealth of the "great lone land," in area as great as that of Great Britain, France and Spain combined. The rush of gold seekers compelled men, for their own substance, to experiment as to its agricultural and stock-raising possibilities. It was thus proved that thousands of square miles in Southern Alaska are adapted to the raising of vegetables and grass, and that cattle and sheep flourish and multiply. Along the 2,000 miles of coast-line on the Pacific, the coldest temperature does not fall below 8 degrees above zero in winter—and here in Toledo the mercury falls below the zero line at times. The permanent population is growing, and within a few decades Alaska will be knocking at the door, asking admission as one of the states of the Union. It is what a Democratic statesman, speaking of the annexation of Cuba, once called "manifest destiny."—Toledo Blade.

May Fever Unknown.

Certain it is, and many years of careful experience are back of the statement, that hay fever, and kindred annoying and troublesome summer affections distressing to so many thousands all over the country, recurring as regularly as July and August, are absolutely unknown in the "Highlands of Ontario." Thousands of people go to Muskoka, Georgian Bay or the Lake of Bays every year for nothing else but to avoid hay fever, and find perfect immunity from the ailment, and many by going there regularly for a period of a few years are said to be permanently cured.

ern people, who have never been South to feel our sorrows and see the spirit that is so manifest in nearly every section against the negro; this is doing much to make enemies for us "in the house of friends" and to wrench from us the friends we have held since the days of slavery.

Think of Senator Ben Tillman, with the base law of vengeance for the negro controlling his every action, every speech; taking the platform in New York with the hope of having born unto him men who will help him apply the torch or provide the rope, with which to do the work, which coward Southern Senators call "smart."

The Northern pulpit of to-day is so more like the pulpit of twenty years ago than Ben Tillman is like Theodore Roosevelt. Gospel from Southern Bibles, from which men seem to have torn that verse which teaches the "Fatherhood of God and Brotherhood of man," are used by men who have secured Northern charges.

Let a Northern man come South and speak in defense of the negro and there will go up a howl from press and pulpit, and threats of tar and feathers or lynching will be heard on every side. The future for the race, indeed, looks dark, but God still lives and will rule in the affairs of this nation. No one knows the end. But we enjoin the negro to do the right and not forget to watch and pray and leave the rest to a just God.

AFTER "showing up" the grafts in connection with the collection of war claims due Kentucky by the Beckham crowd, Hendrick might air the Lakeland Asylum scandal.

A FRENCH scientist claims to have discovered a process by which alcohol can be produced at ten cents per gallon. He should guard his secret well, for he certainly has a "snop."

CHINA is said to be importing arms preparatory to driving out foreigners. We have no serious objections. A man who is willing to make China his permanent home deserves to be driven out.

A SOUTHERN journal says that the corners of Kentucky are anxiously awaiting the opening of the gubernatorial campaign. It begins to look like they might have a "job" before the May primary.

TENNESSEE has passed a law to prevent the indiscriminate manufacture of lawyers. Kentucky might go still farther and root out many who are pretending to practice without in the least injuring the profession.

A WEALTHY manufacturer had a proverb that no man is rich enough to smoke a twenty-five cent cigar. His conclusion was manifestly erroneous. Anybody could do the smoking provided some one else would do the buying.

THE statesmen of the boot-shaped country of the Dagos, who are talking about fighting the United States should reflect that their peninsula has an area of only 114,410 square miles, while one state of the Federal Union alone has 265,780. Italy would make just about a good mouthful for Uncle Sam.

JOHN HENDRICK's speech at Nickolasville Monday indicates that he has found out a thing or two about affairs at Frankfort, and he even threatens to tell more. Good Democrats who are anxious to know the conditions of affairs up at Cripps' headquarters would do well to read John's "remarks."

THE man who claimed that he was J. C. W. Beckham, and who has been in jail at Miami, Fla., for several months has been adjudged insane and sent to the Chattahoochee Insane Asylum. Although he didn't "paw out" to be Governor, he yet has one consolation—he didn't have to go to the Lakeland Asylum.

ETHNOLOGISTS of the Smithsonian Institute have been investigating the genealogy of the Filipinos, and have arrived at the conclusion that the blood of all the races and varieties of mankind flows through their veins. No wonder they become riotous and turbulent when this composite fluid begins to boil.

NEW features are being added to the Street Fair by the management every day. The public-spirited business men here, are determined that it shall be a success in every detail. Every farmer should come and compete for some premium. If you stay out in the country on May 15 and 16, you'll be "awful lonesome."

The unprecedented magnificence of the scheme for the World's Fair at St. Louis next year is far ahead of anything of the kind ever attempted before. The cost of the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia was $8,500,000; of the Paris Exposition $9,500,000; of the Columbian Exposition at Chicago $29,000,000, while the St. Louis Exposition is to cost $40,000,000.

The thirty-seventh National Encampment of the G. A. R. will be held at San Francisco, Cal., during the week commencing August 17. Accommodation will be arranged for 200,000 visitors. The meeting will be the greatest in the history of the Encampment, and thousands will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit the delightful climate and country found only in the land of the setting sun.

At La Grange last Tuesday Hon. John K. Hendricks said:

"Mr. Beckham has squandered more money in the payment of lawyers' fees than he has in his office than any ten governors who have preceded him. He need not try to dodge this issue by calling attention to the vast sums he has collected for the state. When he made a contract with Mr. C. C. Calhoun, of Lexington, to collect Kentucky's war claim for $50,000, he knew that the amount agreed upon was ample, and that the contract was binding. He knew that the claim had been allowed, and that the most Mr. Calhoun could do would be to go to Washington and get the money. Surely $50,000 would have been enough for that."

"Yet, in the face of these facts, Mr. Beckham allows Mr. Calhoun to lobby through the Legislature a bill authorizing the payment of an additional fee amounting to $20,000, or $75,000 in all. What did Mr. Beckham do while Mr. Calhoun was lobbying? Nothing. He kept mum. He never disclosed to the Legislature for an instant the fact that he had a valid and binding contract with Mr. Calhoun to collect the claim for $50,000. The existence of this contract was never intimated by word or deed. Mr. Beckham stood still and mutely by and saw the taxpayers of the state outrageously robbed of $65,000."

Comments unnecessary, but to be obliging, we'll agree.

DR. CARLSTEDT'S GERMAN LIVER POWDER
Money refunded if you are not pleased with results; has cured thousands—why not you?

Mr. E. R. Hackett, a prominent merchant of Morgantown, Ky., was a sufferer for years from constipation and indigestion, and was prevailed upon to try Dr. Carlstedt's German Liver Powder by one whom it had done great good. He gave it a single trial, when he began to feel better at once. Troubled with piles, Mr. Hackett was surprised to find himself cured of this most dreaded of bodily ailments. He is now a well man and does not use any medicine. If you are afflicted in this manner, give it a trial. It will cost you only 25 cents, and should it not prove as we say the druggist is authorized to refund your money.

SOUVENIR BUTTON FREE.

One Given to Every Person Sending in Ten Votes in the School Teachers' Popularity Contest.

Acting on the suggestion of numerous educators of the State the Kentucky Exhibit Association has determined to give a souvenir button, the regular price of which is one dollar, to every person who casts ten votes in the School Teachers' Popularity Contest or forms a club of ten and thereby casts ten votes.

The plan of the Association to send the 125 most popular teachers in the State—one from every county, two from the county, outside of Jefferson, casting the largest number of votes, and five from Louisville, because it has 40,000 school children—to the World's Fair with all expenses paid, has started off well and gives promise of proving a big success, but as it and the sale of the Souvenir Buttons are for the same purpose—raising money to erect the Kentucky building at the exposition—it is natural that the two schemes should be worked together.

Remember then that every ten votes cast in the contest, entitles the one casting them to a souvenir button free.

Remember, too, that the purchaser of a souvenir button may cast ten votes in the contest, without any additional expenditure.

We should be glad to have our correspondents write regularly each week. Communications must reach us not later than Wednesday to insure publication. No communication can be published unless the real name of the writer is attached.

Every body should come to the Court House to-morrow night and hear Prof. J. W. Dismore, of Berea, Ky. His subject, "Richer Than Croesus," will be highly entertaining and instructive. The proceeds derived from his lecture will go to the Y. M. C. A. Admission, 25c.

Mr. A. D. White returned from Louisville Tuesday where he had been to negotiate the purchase of a steamboat to be used in rough river both as a pleasure boat and as a means of carrying on traffic between Hartford and points down the river. The trade has not been closed yet.

The social entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last Saturday night was a pleasant and highly enjoyable event. After an excellent repast had been given the guests were served with refreshments, and they repaired to their homes with the many words of praise for the management of the Y. M. C. A.

Master Tanner Rowan, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rowan, happened to a painful accident Saturday evening. While engaged in playing with several small boys near the Y. M. C. A. building he ran against Trimble Pendleton breaking his nose. He was taken to Dr. W. P. Ellis, at Livermore, Sunday.

The members of the Ohio County Committee for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition are called to meet in Hartford in the real estate office of Smith & Ford, on Saturday, May 2, 1903. All are earnestly requested to be present on that day. The precinct committees are also requested to meet with them. Meeting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Spirit of Progress.

Captain Cox has had the 1-on front of the Ohio County Bank building repainted. The color is jet black with silver borders giving it the most attractive exterior of any public building in Hartford. The painting was done by J. G. Shacklett & son.

An Explanation.

The question might be asked why T. J. Turley & Co. had not contributed to the Street Fair to be held here on May 15 and 16, and the answer would be that their push and progress in their two annual openings and their very liberal prizes offered and given was considered so liberal that the business men thought it fair and just that they should not be called upon to contribute anything, but they invite them to be present and enjoy the occasion with their friends and patrons. It might further be asked why persons and products are excluded from entering contests, that took a premium at T. J. Turley & Co's late opening, the management, aiming to be fair and liberal, think the most popular young lady, the best farmer, the best pair of mules, &c., had been so recently settled at T. J. Turley & Co's recent opening, that it would be unfair for the same persons and products to enter in like rings or contests, but they are in no wise excluded in any other way.

CENTRAL GROVE, KY.

On last Thursday at 3 p.m. Mr. Felix Shaver, of Beda, and Miss Emma Bertie Williams were united in marriage by Rev. G. J. Bean. Immediately after the ceremony, they went to the home of the groom where a beautiful reception awaited them. May their path of life be strewn with brightest flowers.

Mr. Ira Fulkerson and family, Beaver Dam, visited relatives in the community Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Louanna Ford, who is attending school at Beaver Dam, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Luther Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Snell and little daughter, Vitula, Cool Springs, visited in this community recently.

Mrs. Nora Faught, of Littleton, Attridge, are visiting relatives in Beaver Dam.

Mr. Dallas Faught, of whose illness was mentioned a few weeks ago, is much improved.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Beaver Dam Association will meet next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Baptist church. All men are invited to attend this meeting.

The Hartford Association gave a social on last Saturday in their rooms, about two hundred people were in attendance, and everyone seemed to have a good time. We were glad to see so many of our friends there, sorry more of them were not present, would have been glad if five hundred had come.

The Hartford Association will have Prof. Dismore to speak at the men's meeting on next Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

The Boys Department is still growing, both the bible class on Saturday mornings and the Sunday meetings are very interesting.

On Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Court House, J. W. Dismore A. M., will lecture under the auspices of the Hartford Association. Prof. Dismore comes highly recommended, and will be sure to please all who hear him. A small admission of 25c will be charged.

The Conference of Western Kentucky County Secretaries met in Madisonville last Thursday, three of the four secretaries were there, the other being kept away on account of sickness. Mr. H. E. Rosevear, the State Secretary, and T. J. Wilkie, a District Secretary of Canada, were present.

NEW ENTERPRISE.

Hartford is to Have a New Plant For Cutting Wagon Material.

The Birdsell Manufacturing Co., of South Bend, Ind., through its agent, Mr. J. W. Davis, has leased the site of the old stove factory west of town, and will soon have in operation a sawmill that will cut all kinds of wagon material. A large amount of timber adjacent to Hartford will be purchased and utilized. The mill will give employment to about 30 hands. Mr. W. J. McIntire, General Purchasing agent for the company, was in Hartford the first of the week to add in completing the arrangements for the plant. Hartford is fortunate in getting the new enterprise.

Notice.

All officers of the late Judicial Primary, that are in possession of keys to ballot boxes, are hereby requested to return the same to me, without fail, by the 5th day of May, 1903. T. J. SMITH, County Chairman.

Poorly?

"For two years I suffered terribly from dyspepsia, with great depression, and was always feeling poorly. I then tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and in one week I was a new man."—John McDonald, Philadelphia, Pa.

Don't forget that it's "Ayer's" Sarsaparilla that will make you strong and hopeful. Don't waste your time and money by trying some other kind. Use the old, tested, tried, and true Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It saves all about this great old family medicine. Follow his advice and we will be satisfied.

"MAKES PROPER DIET" PLEASING FORCE

BOB TAYLOR ON THE IRISH PEOPLE.

"If I were a sculptor, I would chisel from the marble my ideal of a hero. I would make it a figure of an Irishman, sacrificing his hopes and his life on the altar of his country, and I would carve on the pedestal the name of Emmet."

"If I were a painter I would make the canvass eloquent with the deeds of the bravest people who ever lived, whose proud spirit no power can break and whose loyalty and devotion to the home of the free government no tyrant can ever crush. And I would write under the picture 'Ireland.'"

"If I were a poet I would melt the world to tears with the pathos of my song. I would touch the heart of humanity with the mournful melody of Ireland's wrong and Erin's woes. I would weave the shamrock and the rose into garlands and glory for the Emerald Isle, the land of martyrs and memories, the cradle of heroes, the nursing of liberty."

"Tortured in dungeons and murdered on scaffolds, robbed of the fruits of their sweat and toil, scourged by famine and plundered by avarice of heartless power, driven like the leaves of autumn before the keen winter winds, this sturdy race of Erin's sons and daughters have been scattered over the face of the earth, homeless only in the land of their nativity, but princes and lords in every other land where merit has been the measure of manhood."

"Where is the battlefield that has not been glorified by Irish courage and baptized with Irish blood? And where is the free country whose councils have not been strengthened by Irish brain, and whose wealth has not been increased by Irish brawn."

"Whenever the flag of war flutters, the spirit of Irish chivalry is there, panting for the battle and eager for the charge. Whether it be Wellington leading the allied armies at Waterloo, or New following the eagles of France; whether it be Sam Houston crushing the armies of Santa Anna at Jacinto, or Davy Crockett courting death at the Alamo, whether it be Andrew Jackson at New Orleans or Stonewall Jackson at Chancellorsville; whether it be Phil Sheridan riding like a god of war in the thickest of the fight, or Pat Cleburne leading a forlorn hope and dying at the cannon's mouth on the breast-work of the foe, it is in the same intrepid unconquerable spirit of sublime courage which flows like a stream of inspiration from the heart of Old Ireland to burn forever on the altars of liberty."

"Whenever the flag of peace is unfurled over the progressive English-speaking nations of the earth, this same irresistible Celtic blood has ever been present, shaping the destinies of empires and republics."

"It warmed the heart of Edmund Burke, whose brain was a mighty loom which wove tapestries of glory for England and mankind. It inspired the souls of Swift and Sheridan whose dreams will linger in English literature forever, like the fragrance of roses that are faded and gone. It lighted up the brain of Oliver Goldsmith, who broke out in songs sweeter than the songs of the nightingale. It kindled the soul of Tom Moore into flame, and like an angel of light from the realm of dreams, he swept the burning strings of Erin's heart, and lo! the whole world thrilled with its melody. The body of Tom Moore was dust long ago, but his spirit lives in his songs, and breathes more hope in every Irish heart and happiness in every Irish home."

"If I were asked why our Southern people were so impulsive, I would answer that it is not so much the effect of climate as it is the predominance of Irish blood in our veins. It was this that fired the Irish heart of Patrick Henry to preach secession from English wrath and the power of English arms. It was this that nerved our Irish-American President to have Mexico thrashed before breakfast. It was this that woke the lion in the Irish of John C. Calhoun and compelled him to thunder the doctrine of State's rights under the Constitution, and it was this that finally put the North on the pension list and the South on crutches."

"I am compelled to omit from this short address the long list of Irish names whose deeds have illuminated every page of American history. It is enough to say that without our Irish names, the sky of our national glory would lose half its glory. And yet how can I give you a complete welcome without giving utterance in the same breath to the names of Grady and Father Ryan—Grady, the impassioned Southern orator, whose eloquence calmed the spirit of sectional hate, and wooed the nation into the fond embrace of fraternal love and peace; Grady, who, like the morning star, blazed for a moment on the horizon and was lost forever from mortal eyes in the light of God's eternal day; Father Ryan, our own Irish hero and poet-priest, whose mournful melodies of despairing love for the cause that was farled forever, still melts the heart of old grizzly veterans of the South to the tenderness of childhood; Father Ryan, the Tom Moore of Dixie, whose spirit has kept watch over the folded stars and bars until the resurrection."

High Pressure Days.
Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the pressure is to keep up with all those things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days."

BRANDS OF CHEESE.
Gorgonzola is a cheese to swear by, Limburger to swear at.
Each country has its favorite cheese. The Swiss make the Gruyere cheese, known more generally in this country as Swiss cheese. It is made of goat's milk and is full of holes caused by the gases in fermentation. The cheese is initiated, but never equalled, here. The typical English cheese is the Cheddar, first made in the English town after which it is named. It is very like American cream cheese. Cheddar is another favorite English cheese, while the fashionable cheese of the day is Swiss, a cheese which defies imitation. Swiss cheese, first made in England, is now made the world over. Its distinguishing characteristic is the flavoring and coloring of sage, parsley, spinach and mallow leaves bruised and steeped. Brie is a popular French soft cheese, and Camembert, originating in Normandy, is another. These cheeses are cured in caves where the temperature never rises above 12 to 14 degrees. They are ready for marketing in May and November. Roquefort, a celebrated French cheese, is made from the milk of goats and sheep that graze on the thyme clad banks of the Arno, in western France. These cheeses are also ripened in caves, but the temperature is kept at 40 degrees.

Askin to the Roquefort cheese is that called Gorgonzola, made in Italy after similar processes. It is milder than Roquefort and not quite so good, but it is sold much cheaper. Another Italian cheese, the Parmesan, is very hard, and is usually grated. It is often used with macaroni. Another curious Italian cheese is the Caciocavallo, or horse cheese, which is delicious, and improves with age. It is cured in the skins used in making sausage and comes in curious, sausage-like shapes. Limburger cheese, so beloved by the Germans, originated in Belgium. It is extraordinarily rich, being allowed to ripen to putrefaction; hence its horridly putrid odor in unseasoned nostrils. Some persons have a saying, "Gorgonzola is a cheese to swear by, Limburger to swear at." From Holland come the Edam and the pineapple, both made in closely matted and very popular. It is written in history that the Dutch used their round, cannon ball like Edam cheeses to shoot out of their cannon when the Swedes were besieging Amsterdam—Philadelphia North American.

The Roots of Trees.
The roots of a tree do not cover the same area beneath the earth as they do above. A gardener of many years' experience, having had a vast deal to do in digging and transplanting trees, says he has found that the roots of trees cover on an average about two-thirds of the area of its branches. The tree which has the largest area under ground is the weeping willow. This tree's roots spread to such an extent that should there be any trees or shrubs planted within thirty feet of them in a few years the roots of the willow will be found intermingling with them. Fruit trees, such as apples, pears and plums, have very small roots in comparison with their size. The roots of current bushes do not occupy more than a quarter the space their branches cover.

Criticism That Hurts and Frees.
To bring about some friendship between people who love each other, respect for one another's individuality is of course necessary. We can vow that unless duty seriously and lovingly demands it there should be no unasked criticism between people who love each other. Think how it would make for peace if domestic criticism were forbidden at every breakfast table! Think of our own happiness if our brothers and sisters would stop telling us unpleasant truths! Think of their happiness if we could refrain from enlightening them as to their dress or manner or belief—Margaret Deland in Harper's Bazar.

An Appropriate Quotation.
Dr. Temple's hatred of verbosity was intense. On one occasion his chaplain was surprised to receive a telegram from the archbishop consisting of only the words, "Third John, 13 and 14." Settled the chaplain turned up his Bible and read: "I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee. But I trust I shall shortly see thee and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet thy friends by name."

Generous.
"If I could only get a bite to eat," he whined.
"Why don't you work?" she asked.
"Nothin' doin' in my line," he answered. "I'm a dime museum glass eater, an' they're gettin' too common."

A Possible Indictment.
Little Nell—I don't like my papa one bit. He's awful selfish.
Mamma—He is?
Little Nell—Yes'm. He nearly sat down on my dolly, an' then, 'stead of takin' another chair, he took her chair right away from her an' left her on the hard floor.

About Ghosts.
He—D'you know, if I were ever to see a ghost, don't you know, I believe I should be a hopeless idiot for the rest of my life!
She (absently)—Have you ever seen a ghost?—London King.

The average person wastes lots of time telling other people things they do not care to hear.

POULTRY POINTERS.
Everything in the poultry house should be dry.
In dry picking poultry, the picking should be done while the fowl is warm—as soon as possible after the fowl is killed.

The nests should never be fastened to the poultry house in such a way that they cannot be readily removed and cleaned.
Fowls are very fond of raw vegetables. Beets, carrots, turnips and especially cabbage may be fed to advantage. The best plan is to chop them fine.

A dressed fowl may be made to look plump by dipping it for ten seconds in water that is nearly boiling hot and then holding it until chilled in cold water.

The Dog.
Man is the best friend of the dog. Horses come next, but between the dog and all other farm animals, from the house cat to the cow and the beef steer, there seems to be a natural enmity. Dogs, however, are fond of sheep and goats, but as dog, not as living friends. Cows and sheep and goats should be kept as free from association with dogs as is possible, with the exception of the trained shepherd dog. A dog walking through a corral will often cause a decrease in milk flow that amounts to more than the cash value of the dog. Many dogs are worth considerably less than nothing.

An Odd Pulpit.
The oak pulpit in the Seamen's church at Sunderland, England, is a curio in the way of pulpits. It is built of wood in the shape of a boat's bow and bears on the gunwale in letters of gold the inscription, "Nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net." The pulpit was the gift of the naval officers and men of the Dedway flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers in acknowledgment of the kindnesses received during their visit to Sunderland in May, 1901.

To Make Him Happy.
Old Peterby is rich and stingy. In the event of his death his nephew is to inherit his property. A friend of the family said to the old gentleman: "I hear your nephew is going to marry. On that occasion you ought to do something to make him happy."
"I will," said Mr. Peterby; "I'll provide that I am dangerously ill."—London Telegraph.

Too Much.
Mrs. Marryat—Mamma is talking of closing her house and coming to live with us. Do you think you could support both of us?
Mr. Marryat—My dear, I can support you very nicely now, but I'm afraid your mother would be insupportable—Catholic Standard and Times.

Still More Exclusive.
Mrs. Woodby—There's nothing like a college education to open the way to exclusive society. Since my son started to go to the university he's got into the Four Hundred.

Mrs. McClinty—My son's doing even better at college. He's on the nine—Philadelphia Press.

The way to lose a friend is to have him get rich while you stay poor.

A Nest Program.
Now that the Dedication Ceremonies of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition (the World's Fair) are so close at hand, the public is commencing to wonder what St. Louis has to offer in the way of entertainment to out-of-town visitors.

The Henderson Route (which is the World's Fair Line) has gotten out a very neat booklet, vest-pocket size, which contains the complete official program of these ceremonies. It is a modern piece of work in every respect, printed in green and red with gray antique cover and high grade enameled book stock inside. Copies will be gladly furnished on application.

Danger of Colds and Grip.
The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. Reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip less than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

Artistic Monuments

COST NO MORE THAN PLAIN ONES IN White Bronze.

Marble is entirely out of date. Granite soon gets moss-grown, discolored, requires constant expense and care, and eventually crumbles back to Mother Earth. Besides, it is very expensive. White Bronze is strictly everlasting. It cannot crumble with the action of frost. Moss-growth is an impossibility. It is more artistic than any stone. Then why not investigate? It has been adopted for nearly one hundred public monuments and by thousands of delighted customers in all parts of the country. It has been on the market over 25 years and is an established success. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. We have hundreds of beautiful designs of all grades of work, and want to have you see them if you are interested in a monument, headstone, marker or grave-cover. On receipt of a postal card will be pleased to call with designs and sample of White Bronze.

Call for a Senatorial Convention.

At a meeting of the Republican Executive Committee of the 7th Senatorial District, held at Beaver Dam, Ky., December 20, 1902, it was ordered that a convention be held in each of the voting precincts in said district on Saturday, July 11, 1903, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of electing delegates to attend a county convention to be held at the county seat of each county in said district on Monday, July 13, 1903, at 1 p. m., which county conventions shall elect delegates to attend a district convention to be held at Hartford, Ky., Saturday, July 18, 1903, at 1 p. m., to nominate a candidate for State Senator in said district. The representation in the county convention shall be one delegate for each 25 or fraction over 12 votes cast for McKinley for President in 1900; and the basis of representation in the district convention shall be one vote for each 100 or fraction over 50 votes cast for McKinley for President in 1900. The candidate receiving a majority of all the votes cast in said district convention shall be declared the nominee of the Republican party for the office of State Senator in said district.
